aspirations. As a Group, we have a proud legacy of leading the empowerment of people in the financial services industry. We also believe in aligning with like-minded companies by offering beneficial partnership solutions. For us, it's all about our clients and their needs. Our Group model is structured into full value chain business, a products and solutions business, and Group-wide functions. This way of working encourages growth and has a practical focus on the client.

Momentum Metropolitan is also the first major insurance Group to achieve a Level 1 B-BBEE rating, under the revised Financial Services Charter.

Our Group's status as a Level 1 Broad-Based Black Economic Empowerment (B-BBEE) contributor and our participation in the Financial Services

Charter (FSC) reflects our commitment, through our transformation strategy, to move beyond compliance and actively contribute to a transformed, vibrant and globally competitive financial sector in South Africa.

Our cumulative investment in the empowerment finance component of the FSC B-BBEE codes is R34.3 billion, which includes a R1.6 billion investment in renewable energy.

During F2020 we invested over R70 million in enterprise and supplier development and supported 741 SMEs. We also substantially exceeded our preferential procurement targets.

A responsible corporate citizen

The Momentum Metropolitan Group qualifies for inclusion in the FTSE4Good Index Series and the FTSE/JSE Responsible Investment Top 30 Index. We are signatories to the United Nation's (UN) Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI) (see www.unpri.org for more information) and The Momentum Metropolitan Foundation, an independent not-for-profit company, has mandated our corporate social investment team to make a positive, measurable difference to youth unemployment among 16 to 25-year olds. Despite the interruption of our efforts by the advent of the Covid-19 pandemic we were able to help 750 young people find employment in F2020, 40% of whom were female. We have found that job security is greatest for students who have completed our ICT programmes. As a result, we are including a greater variety of lower level IT skills training in our programme that learners can quickly use to earn an income. Our investment in making a measurable difference to youth unemployment is also contributing to the achievement of the United Nations (UN) Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 4 and 8. The Group invested R28 million in its youth employment, financial literacy and staff volunteer programmes in F2020.

Our support of society, small business and communities during the Covid-19 lockdown

The Group's efforts to protect the vulnerable from the impact of the Covid-19 lockdown included making donations in emergency funding available to the Red Cross and the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and our partners working in communities to distribute food, provide access to water and enable testing. We also contributed to government's Solidarity fund, which provided financial and resourcing support for Covid-19 relief efforts. Our Group Chief Executive Officer also donated one third of his salary for three more months to the solidarity fund.

Guardrisk contributed to the South African Future Support Trust to support small businesses that were unable to operate during lockdown. In total, we provided more than R500 million in client relief related to the pandemic, from March to June 2020.

Committed to good governance

The Group applies the King IV recommended principles throughout its South African business and applies appropriate and bespoke best practice governance in all the countries in which it operates. It has a diverse, skilled and experienced board. The majority of its board members are independent non-executive directors (70%). Its gender diversity and promotion of racial diversity policies include a target for female membership of 30% and a racial target, which requires that a minimum of 50% of its board members are black. Currently, 35% of the members of the board are female. The board still needs to meet its racial target as currently 47% of its board members are black.

Our purpose is to enable businesses and people from all walks of life to achieve their financial goals and life aspirations. The best interests of our employees, clients and society remain top of mind as we navigate new territory and adapt to a new reality brought about by the Covid-19 pandemic.

Introducing Metropolitan Life

Metropolitan Life is one of the largest long-term insurance companies in South Africa, with client-centric solutions at our core. Metropolitan Life was established over 120 years ago in 1897 as the African Homes Trust with the purpose of providing finance to those who could not afford to buy their own homes.

We have grown from a one office-business in Paarl in the Western Cape province into one of the largest financial services companies in South Africa with over 140 branches in South Africa and service centres in Namibia, Botswana, Kenya, Ghana, Lesotho and Swaziland and over 2.1 million life policies in issue in 2020.

Metropolitan Life remains committed to its original purpose of serving and empowering South Africans through accessible financial solutions through the best of times and the most challenging of times. This commitment is reflected in the design of our products which, because they have always made provision for the hard times our clients may experience, protected our clients during Covid-19.

Metropolitan Life, in partnership with the Unite4One movement, donated 100 000 face masks, which were distributed to over 150 schools in vulnerable communities across the West Cape province, when grade 7 and 2 learners returned to school in June 2020. This donation was in response to the government's appeal for corporates to assist with the provision of personal protective equipment for use in schools. We boldly started a conversation about the mental effects of Covid-19 on South Africans and through all national channels provided assistance of life coaches to provide the freedom to discuss matters such as these in an open and fair manner.

Fuelled by a legacy of over 120 years, we have been right there by our clients' side, helping them shape their futures by empowering them to make informed and insightful choices. We hire from the communities we work in and we have a dynamic branch structure ensuring access to our business. We are developing new digital ways to provide even greater access. Most importantly, we focus our attention on client centric insights to help us understand and develop solutions and services that suit the needs of our markets. We've entrenched this position because we believe in the power of the collective.

We get that every South African has their own story to write. That's why we are so passionate about servicing and enabling people, businesses and communities with accessible financial solutions.

Together, we walk the journey with our clients – from the executive making the decisions to the employee benefitting from the right choice.

Metropolitan Life is that choice because you can count on us to deliver by empowering your employees or members to plan and reach their financial goals.

They have a story to write. Rely on us to enable them to do exactly that, as the right-fit financial partner for your business.

Together, we can.

Metropolitan Life's sales and service efficiencies:

An extract from the 2019 Integrated Report:

Metropolitan Life was once again recognised as an industry leader in the South African Customer Satisfaction Index (SACSI). We also received first place in the Ask Afrika Index and consistency rank highly in the well-known Sunday Times Top Brands survey where we were placed second. This was powered by a successful call-to-action funeral policy marketing campaign.

The Metropolitan Life claims service was exceptional with almost 90% of funeral claims being paid within four hours. In addition, 95% of all our services interactions are resolved in the first interaction, whether in our branches or through our call centres.
