

Leave a gift of money

Your financial wellness journey begins when you start planning for what's important.

Leaving a legacy for your family is a personal choice. It's great to know that you can leave your family with a gift that will outlive you. At Metropolitan, we offer solutions that help you do just that.

What are the benefits?

We cover you for all causes of death. If you choose to include the Funeral and Immediate Needs benefit, you or your life partner can get up to 20% of your life cover benefit paid out in 48 hours.

With a maximum cover of up to R5 million, your payout can be used pay for various needs such as the education of your children or to secure your assets such as your car and house.

You may get up to 100% of your payout back if you are diagnosed with a terminal illness and the doctors predict that you have less than 12 months to live.

Life happens. Should you ever find yourself retrenched, you can protect your plan with the Retrenchment premium waiver which will pay out your premiums for 12 months.

To ensure that your gift still has the same value in years to come, you can keep up with inflation by adjusting your contributions year-on-year.

You can also choose the Monthly Support Payout option, which your family can use for monthly expenses for up to 60 months.
